COMPREHENSION PASSAGE

Read the Following Passage Aloud Twice and Answer the Questions that Follow :

The Clever Jackal

Sher Khan was a big lion who hunted for food in the jungle. He thought himself to be very clever. He often tricked the animals and ate them. But he wasn't actually very clever because a jackal was cleverer than him.

One day he couldn't find any food. Hungry and tired, he went into a cave to rest. He thought that if some animal would come to the cave to spend the night, he would get some food.

Soon a jackal came near the cave. He saw the lion's footprints at the entrance and knew that a lion was inside the cave.

He had an idea. He called out, 'Good evening Mr Cave'. The lion was very happy in the cave that at last some animal had come by.

The jackal called out again, 'Dear friend cave, you welcome me every day so nicely. Why are you quiet today? Don't you want me to come in? If you don't answer then I shall stop coming here.'

Sher Khan thought he might lose his prey. So he roared out loudly. The cave echoed his roar and the jungle trembled with the loud roar. He sat waiting for the jackal to come in.

However the jackal understood that the lion was in the cave and said, 'I have never heard a cave talk. How can a cave talk?' And he ran off.

Sher Khan realised his mistake. 'I shouldn't have opened my big mouth. It serves me right.'
